Additional / Alternative destinations in Nuuk Fjord:

Nuuk fjord is so amazing, that there is plenty of sites and activities, so we can easily adapt the trip, and change the sailing schedule with one of these destinations.

We can also change the dates according to the package you want to give to your clients

Sometimes we might need to change the schedule according to the weather and ice conditions, but all of the places are just as magical as the others!

Sermitsiaq Mountain

Sermitsiaq Mountain is one of the most prominent landmarks of Nuuk, Greenland. Its iconic profile towers over the city and is a symbol of the region's natural beauty. The mountain is not just a hiking destination; it's also a popular spot for photography and enjoying breathtaking views of the surrounding fjords, islands, and the Arctic landscape, and plenty of fishing opportunity!

The Captains knows a secret eagles nest in this area 🕵️

The most beautiful village Kapisillit

Kapisillit is a small, picturesque settlement in Greenland, located near Nuuk. Nestled along the shores of a fjord, it is known for its stunning natural surroundings, including mountains, water, and wildlife. The settlement is primarily inhabited by a small community, often engaged in traditional activities like fishing and hunting.

Kapisillit offers a glimpse into Greenlandic life, with colorful houses and a serene atmosphere. It serves as a gateway to outdoor adventures, such as hiking and exploring the nearby landscapes. The area is also rich in local culture and history, making it a charming destination for those interested in experiencing the authenticity of Greenland.

Ameralik

Ameralik is a long fjord just south of Nuuk, with several sites worth visiting.

1. Scenic Fjord Views

- The Ameralik offers breathtaking views of the fjords and surrounding mountains. You'll get to experience Greenland's vast, rugged landscapes without needing to hike at high altitudes.

2. Gentle Terrain

- The path is relatively flat, making it suitable for beginners or those looking for a less strenuous hike. The terrain is manageable, often with established trails that don't require advanced hiking skills.

3. Wildlife Spotting

- Ameralik is a great place to spot local wildlife. Depending on the season, you may see birds, such as eagles or puffins, and even seals along the fjord shores. It's an excellent choice for a peaceful hike with wildlife sightings. And high opportunity to spot reindeers and arctic hares in their natural habitat.

We have these places we can visit in Ameralik

-Eqaluit Paarliit

Camping site for schools, several cabins. Amazing fishing place for cod, and arctic trout and amazing hiking for

-Qasigianniguit

Popular hunting and hiking place with a beautiful lake, and nice cabins

-Eqaluit Ilorliit

Perfect place to practice shooting, and beautiful beach to do BBQ

Nuuk

We can also divide the trip in 2 where you have activities in Nuuk, and on board the ship and split the week that way.

In Nuuk we can provide bus transfers, guides, activities, restaurant visits etc.

Look at this cooperation we have between Greenland Escape, Hotel Aurora and Greenland Explorer for inspiration.

Seasons

📅 Summer

June to August:

This is the peak season for visits due to milder weather, more daylight, and greater access to open waters. The fjord is navigable, with temperatures averaging between 5-15°C making wildlife viewing, hiking, and kayaking more pleasant.

Winter

December to February:

Winter expeditions are possible but more challenging. The fjord may have icy patches, and snowstorms or shorter daylight hours can impact visibility and access. However, this season offers the chance to experience the Northern Lights and ice-covered landscapes, creating a unique adventure and opportunity to do walking on sea ice

☒ Spring and Fall:

These transitional seasons have variable weather, but they offer more solitude and excellent opportunities for nature enthusiasts. Ice conditions are typically manageable, though colder temperatures and weather changes are common.
